DAWES SPLITS WITH PRESIDENT ON FARM ISSUE

vention.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special]—Indorsement by Vice President Dawes of the principle of proposed legislation to raise the prices of farm products on the American market through control of the surplus and coverage of losses by an equalization fee assessed on production created a sensation in the capital today.

In pronouncing the plan economical and sound the Vice President took sharp issue with President Coolidge, who regards it unsound and a dangerous price fixing scheme. It was the opposition of the President to the price raising plan, of which the equalization fee is the distinctive feature, that resulted in the defeat of the Haugen bill in the house last week.

Speculate on 1928.

While Dawes is not an advocate of the Haugen bill or any other specific measure, his views place him in accord in the main with the plan embodied in the original Dickinson bill.

The joining of the issue between the President and the Vice President caused the politicians to prick up their ears. Speculation started on the possibility of Gen. Dawes becoming a candidate for the Republican nomination for President against Mr. Coolidge in 1928 in the event that the farmers fail to obtain price stabilization legislation and carry their demand for relief into the national election.

Dawes Snorts at Idea.

When this suggestion came to the ears of the Vice President, a short fit of disgust and an impatient wave of his underlining pipe signified his mental reaction. He wanted it distinctly understood that he is never going to be a candidate for any office or accept any office again. He is intent on discharging his duties as Vice President to the best of his ability.

As to his attitude on farm legislation, he cannot understand why it would be necessary to discover a political motive in a desire to help solve the greatest problem confronting the country: the decline of agriculture.

Gen. Dawes, it transpires, has been studying the question of agricultural relief for a couple of years and did not commit himself to the price raising plan embodying the control of the surplus and the equalization fee until it had been pronounced sound by Sir Josiah Stamp, the British economist of note. He is convinced that the plan is sound economically as the protective tariff and is the only means of making the tariff effective on agricultural products.

Impetus to Legislation.

The Vice President's indorsement, presented by Senator Watson [Rep., Ill.], on the floor of the senate, gave impetus to the movement for passage of surplus control legislation.

It is evident that his opinion has influenced conservative thought in the senate to such an extent that the corn belt leaders now believe there is a fair prospect of getting a price stabilization bill through that body.

Among close associates of President Coolidge, the reaction to the entrance of Dawes into the situation was unfavorable. Their resentment was manifested, and the hope was apparent that senators would resent the Dawes amendment as an unwarranted intrusion into legislative matters. The fact is that Dawes did not offer his amendment and that Watson presented the President's indorsement of the same without permission.

Madden Offers Compromise.

From the Coolidge circle came the opinion that even if the senate should pass the sort of bill approved by Dawes the house would reject it as it is the Haugen bill.

This, however, is not necessarily a certainty. The administration forces which killed the Haugen bill are not feeling comfort over the prospect of running into elections this year with no farm relief plan without permission.

Following the Cook county jurors' session there was a report in Chicago that the governor was still disposed to defend and to aid his parole board chief and was planning to put all responsibility for conditions exposed upon Warren Whitman.

Army General Carlstrom means in a telephone conversation with Col. Small told the governor he should names Colvin and Chauncey Jenkins, director of public welfare, without deal.

Call U. S. Attorney.

Before launching into the day's task of querying Colvin, the prosecutors, attorney General Carlstrom and State's Attorney Crowe, issued subpoenas calling for the appearance before the jury today of United States District Attorney Edwin A. Olson and all the city's police commanders.

Mr. Olson was summoned at the request of the jurors, who said to be eager to question him about the investigation of the senate prohibition investigating committee at Washington.

The police captains, called from the first ten districts, are to be warned, it was said, that they will be held personally to account for books and crime conditions in their districts.

Will Colvin also will be recalled to day, for he had not nearly finished answering the questions shot at him yes

Colvin on the Grill.

The parole board chief was first asked about the pardon granted to "Porky" Dillon, notorious gunman and New gangster, who served only three months of a ten years to life sentence for robbery with a gun.

"What about it?" asked State's Atty. Colvin.

"Well, the record speaks for itself," said Colvin, as his testimony was opened later.

"You have the record before you," the prosecutor replied. "Tell us why you recommended that Porky Dillon be pardoned."

When Colvin fished out the Dillon record, it was disclosed that it showed only an unsworn pencil memorandum from "Mickey" Galvin, business agent of the teamsters' union, who said Dillon might be eligible to help reduce some of the sentences of the men he had committed. A letter from another labor official said Galvin was a useful man to the union. Upon that record, it appears, Gov. Small pardoned Dillon and sent him back to Chicago, where he was arrested again.

Whole Fabric of the Case.

"Here was an aggravated offense where a man before a Chicago court with a vicious previous record of crime pleaded guilty to robbery with a gun," said State's Attorney Crowe when Colvin bared the record. "You, Mr. Colvin, disregarded the formal statements showing this criminal's record, you told the judge, and you gave him a pardon after only a few months of imprisonment on the pencil memo of a labor agent. Do you pretend now that Dillon was properly punished—society was protected?"

Colvin swung out his arms, coughed, and said:

"No, not as you put it. Not as far as the whole fabric of the case as presented to the board it seemed to us the right thing to do." Twenty times more, it was said, the jurors heard from Colvin that expression about the whole fabric of the case."

Strange Case of Ira Perry Jr.

The same strange case of Ira Perry Jr., who confessed murderer and robber of numerous Chicago stores, son of a once wealthy brewer, Perry was sentenced to life for murder but was commuted that sentence to one for manslaughter, and the parole board skidded Perry out on the streets at parole.

"What caused that twisty contour of law?" asked State's Attorney Crowe.

"Gentlemen," murmured Colvin, "it was in the record. I cannot remember the details."

"Well, you've got the record right in front of you. Take it and tell us why this murderer was freed."

So Colvin delayed again, but all he could produce was an unsworn petition filed by Attorney Murphy O. Tate, law associate of Werner Schroeder, personal attorney to Gov. Small, alleging that there were indications that Perry had been subjected to third degree

Poppy Sale to Aid War Veterans

POPPY SALES ON 2 DAYS TO AID DISABLED VETS

Veterans of the world war, patients at the Speedway hospital, some of them crippled, other patients who come there for treatment, but live at home, sometimes whose minds were deranged by war shock, have been making poppies for sale in Chicago and vicinity, tomorrow and Saturday.

"Did you call in the police or prosecute officials to attempt a verification of your claim?" the reporter was asked. "No, they hadn't done that." If you thought Perry was innocent, the victim of third degree methods, why not give him a pardon? Why all this rigmarole of commutation from murder to manslaughter and then a parole?" was the next question. More stammering, no explanation.

Case of Tony Sansone.

Then came the case of Tony Sansone, a deserter from the army, who raped an 11 year old girl and infected her with disease. He was paroled after serving only four years of a ten year sentence.

"Would it not have been better for society to have kept this man in prison for the full term?" Mr. Crowe demanded.

Colorless came the reply:

"The action of the board represented our best judgment at the time."

Three other cases were gone into with the same results. The jurors themselves had no opportunity to question Colvin, but will do so today.

The prosecutors also will ask Colvin, they said, about the charge of Mr. E. J. Halverson of St. Louis, who declared Colvin had told her there was one way to get her son out of Ponca City, reformatory and that was by payment of money.

Urge the Governor to Act.

Champey Jenkins is expected to testify tomorrow. He was in Chicago yesterday, ready to go before the grand jury, but Gov. Small called up Attorney General Carlstrom. Colvin was urgently needed in Springfield, and Jenkins was excused upon his promise to return today or tomorrow.

Mr. Carlstrom told the governor the Chicago special grand jury had uncovered a terrible mass.

"It must be cleared up at once," he said. "We should discharge Jenkins and Colvin from the state service. The people all over the state are up in arms against conditions and hold Jenkins and Colvin to blame. I doubt that we shall produce evidence sufficient to indict them, but what proof we have is absolutely incontestable."

Colvin swung out his arms, coughed, and said:

"No, not as you put it. Not as far as the whole fabric of the case as presented to the board it seemed to us the right thing to do." Twenty times more, it was said, the jurors heard from Colvin that expression about the whole fabric of the case."

HEAD, NOT HEART, Carroll's Bathtub Trial Will Go to Jury Today

New York, May 26.—[Special]—The case against Earl Carroll, on trial for perjury before Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard, will probably be placed before the jury inquiry, which had been conducted solely by the Voelstad act and the bath tub scene was not material.

Mr. Buckner characterized his opinion as summing up the most important evidence and "desperate" he had ever heard.

He told the jury it should disregard the testimony of the presence of a woman in the bath tub, as the grand jury inquiry had been conducted solely by the Voelstad act and the bath tub scene was not material.

Miss Hawley is not mine," he shouted to the jury. "I didn't put her in a bath tub at his party. I brought her here because she was the woman he put in the tub at his party. Let's see, he put her in the tub at his party, and I think he charged me more than $100 for it."

Miss Hawley is not mine," he said again.

Carroll Denied Story.

Carroll told two grand juries there was no woman or other person in the bath tub at his party. During his trial no attempt has been made to refute testimony that Miss Hawley was in the tub.

One of the best witnesses, James W. Cody of Carroll's staff, produced an index card showing that Miss Hawley had given her age as 20, her birthday at Madison, Wis., and her nearest relative as a sister, living at 5840 Flournoy street.

Interest centered tonight upon whether Judge Goddard would charge the testimony with respect to the presence of Joyce Hawley in a bath tub of liquid at Carroll's after-theater party. Feb. 23, was material to the case, making practically no reply to Mr. Smyth's attack on her character.

Miss Hawley is not mine," he said again.

John Carlson, 29 years old, 3947 Glenview avenue was seriously hurt last night when the automobile which he was driving collided with another car at Racine avenue and Rose street. John Whitley, 3449 North Ashland avenue, driver of the other car, was arrested. Physicians said Carlson's condition is grave.

No fatal automobile accidents were reported the years toll remaining.

Bitterness characterized the summing up by Mr. Smyth and also by United States Attorney Emery R. Felt.

Mr. Smyth charged the government with conducting the trial "under the guise of a sex case," whereas it was, he said, "an attempt by a pretty woman to blackmail Carroll in order to wreak her vengeance upon him."

BRENNAN FEARS DRYS DODGE HIS BEER CHALLENGE

Wets in House Organize Drives for Beer Referendum

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—(Special)—Concerted action by sixty or more house wets in a drive to force early consideration of measures amending the prohibition law in accord with the proposals which are to be submitted state referendums to the voters of New York, Pennsylvania, and perhaps Illinois, was decided upon in a session of the unofficial congressional committee on modification of the Volstead act today.

Impressed with the trend of what they analyze as a widespread public reaction against prohibition, evidenced in the recent Pennsylvania election, the house wets, who had been somewhat arrested in their efforts to get a referendum, said yesterday that the popular vote would be fruitless and would merely add to the already existing confusion—that what counts is the election of representatives holding the desired sentiments.

Safford's Attack on Vote Test Called Too Mild.

George P. Safford, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois, made an attack yesterday on the proposed Volstead modification referendum backed by George E. Brennan, Democratic nominee for United States senator.

But his statement was unexpected, so mild—so mild, in fact, that Mr. Brennan declined him a surprising amount of time to speak, except on one point. Capt. Safford said in effect that the popular vote would be fruitless and would merely add to the already existing confusion—that what counts is the election of representatives holding the desired sentiments.

"And that's my point exactly," said Mr. Brennan. "The real red test is on the senatorial election. That is a test on the question whether the people of Illinois want the Volstead act modified. A vote for me is a vote of 'Yes.' A vote for my opponent is a vote of 'No.'

Smith Refuses Comment.

Col. Frank L. Smith, the Republican nominee, who issued a statement on Tuesday saying he would make his position clear on all questions of public policy "at the proper time," declined to comment on the Anti-Saloon League expression, or to discuss any other phase of the campaign.

And his friends said that Col. Smith probably would maintain this attitude until he thinks the time has arrived for him to open his campaign and that this would not be until fall—mid August at the earliest.

Mrs. Brennan, however, said frankly he was disappointed in the Safford statement because he feared it indicated an unwillingness to debate the issue of Volstead, and, in reality, he said, in which he was eager to engage because of his confidence in the verdict of the people.

See Only Chaos in Vote.

But, Safford's statement follows: "I see only chaos in the proposed referendum on the wet and dry question will do anything but add to the general confusion. We had a real referendum on this subject in many Illinois districts at the primary election on April 13, and we will have another one in the general election in November. Any other referendum on the subject, except one of representatives in the polls, settles nothing and accomplishes nothing."

The fact that the wets have been offering, through the advertising columns of a Chicago newspaper, $1 for every name obtained on their petition proves that there is no general call for such a referendum.

The drys, however, do anyone suppose that wets would want to repeal the Volstead act and violate its provisions? If the wets won, does anyone suppose the drys would keep quiet and quit fighting to sustain the Volstead act and enforce its provisions?

Clear Results in 1922.

Just how futile such referenda are is shown by the experience of Illinois in 1922 when the wets won in a referendum by about 2 to 1. Then, in the regular election, the drys elected two congressmen, large with over 200,000 votes.

The ultimate purpose of such votes is not to ascertain public opinion but to create it and, incidentally, to have a terrifying effect on congress and the legislature."

The advertisement offering $1 each for signatures on a petition for wine and beer has no connection with the proposed referendum. Instead it is a matter being investigated by State Attorney Crane. In this instance the wet petition is used by the National Advertising organization as a means of getting solicitors into homes to promote a commercial scheme of a sort of cooperative buying.

Issue Arises in Council.

The wet and dry question arose in the city council yesterday when two

The senate argument was brought on when Senator Edwards [Dem., N. J.] read into the record a long newspaper editorial, sharply criticizing the Coolidge order.

Assailed by Drys.

Immediately he was beset by drys, principally Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.] and Senator Walsh, who defended the new enforcement program, and demanded protection for national, or state referendums as useless wastes of public money.

"No one who honestly believes in prohibition wants a referendum," asserted Senator Caraway.

"Perhaps not," shouted Senator Bruce [Dem., Md.], "but the majority in this country want an end to this infamous system of tyranny."

Until the legal question regarding this appointment has been decided, I do not wish any of my officers to accept positions from the government," Keyes said.

Mr. Lloyd George would leave Oxford must leave that is not expected that Lord Oxford will be the old chieftain of the Liberal machine. On the other hand it is believed Mr. Lloyd George plays his cards well, can hold part of the Liberal rank and voters, and perhaps attract more.

May Cooperate with Labor.

Mr. Lloyd George, it is believed, refuses to accept expulsion from the Liberal party, but he may resign at the head of the radicals and make a strong alliance with a Labor party, but for cooperation, has a coalition in the event a new alliance coming to power he would be willing under a Labor prime minister preserving his political independence as a left wing Liberal.

With this program in view, he will be plotting as soon as possible the formation of the miners' strike and labor policies, generally positive tribune of the people and closely allied with the Laborites.

Mr. Lloyd George has many among the Labor leaders. Philip Green, late chancellor of the exchequer, is a close friend and while he and Ramsay MacDonald personally are antipathetic, a little difference in their principles may be a factor.

Mr. Lloyd George would be the new coalition leader nation scheme, which has already been blessed by the Laborites and he thinks he can carry sixty seats rural seats in the next election. He will have, however, enmity among the old line of such as Lord Oxford, Sir Donald Lean, and Sir John Simon, and others. While rather than Liberals, and who might be into the arms of the Conservatives, as some of their associates ready have been.

Controls Party's Fund.

Mr. Lloyd George would add to the combination his imminent fund, which he has never surrendered to the Liberal party and amounts to more than £1,000,000 to cash, as well as the Daily Chronicle of London, a weekly newspaper of £10,000.

Today he has the support of the Daily Chronicle, but also of the Daily News, a famous paper, and the Manchester Guardian, which is the leading English outside of London and always a strong Liberal. All these papers will be in the line that Lord Oxford's a mere petty, personal spite and to win the party if possible.

Settlement of Old Scores.

It is common knowledge that Oxford has never forgave Mr. Lloyd George for forcing him from the ministry during the war, waited for what seemed a opportunity to destroy him. The time seemed to come with the when most of the old line officials were supporting the government and Mr. Lloyd George took of an arranged settlement.

FEUD MAY FORCE LLOYD GEORGE TO LEAD RADICALS

Expected to Act with British Labor.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, May 26.—Political circles in London today are humming with excitement over the open breach between Lord Oxford and Asquith, titular head of the Liberal party, and David Lloyd George, real driving force and leader in the house of commons. Every one is speculating on Mr. Lloyd George's future.

It is recognized that either he or Lord Oxford must leave the party, and it is not expected that it will be Lord Oxford, who has the support of the old timers in the control of the Liberal machine. On the other hand, it is believed Mr. Lloyd George, if he plays his cards well, can hold the support of the Liberal rank and file of voters, and perhaps attract new blood.

May Cooperate with Labor.

Mr. Lloyd George, it is believed, will refuse to accept expulsion from the Liberal party, but he may place himself at the head of the radical wing and make approaches to labor, not for a fusion, but for cooperation, and perhaps a coalition in the event of the new alliance coming to fruition. It is believed he would be willing to serve under a Labor prime minister, while preserving his political independence as a left wing Liberal.

With this program in view, it is believed he is planning as soon as parliament reassembles to advocate settlement of the miners' crisis and favor Labor policies generally posing as the tribune of the people and cooperating closely with the Labor leaders.

Mr. Lloyd George has many friends among the Labor leaders. Philip Snowden, late chancellor of the exchequer, is a close friend and so is J. H. Thomas, and while he and Ramsay McDonald personally are antipathetic, there is little difference in their principles or program.

Mr. Lloyd George would bring into the new coalition the land nationalization scheme, which has already been blessed by the Labor party, and which amounts to more than £1,000,000 (£15,000,000) in cash, as well as control of the Daily Chronicle of London, valued at another £1,000,000 (£15,000,000).

Today he has the support not only of the Chronicle but also of the London Daily News, a famous Liberal paper, and the Manchester Guardian, while the leading papers remain outside of London and always a solid-wart Liberal. All these papers take the line that Lord Oxford's attack is mere petty, personal spite and bound to ruin the party if persisted in.

Sees Settlement of Old Score.

It is common knowledge that Lord Oxford has never forgiven Mr. Lloyd George for forcing him from the prime ministry during the war, and has waited for the right moment to get opportunity to destroy him. This opportunity seemed to come with the strike when most of the old line official Liberals were supporting the government and Mr. Lloyd George took the side of an arranged settlement.

PLAN FIGHT FOR 2 CHILDREN CUT OFF BY STOKES

Weddie Sole Heir in Will;
Widow Not Mentioned.

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—The filing today of the will of W. E. D. Stokes leaving his entire estate, officially valued at about $8,000,000, to W. E. D. Stokes Jr., his son by the present Mrs. Rita de Acosta Lydig, heralds the beginning of litigation over his property. The fight may occupy as many years as his protracted matrimonial actions against his more recent wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes.

Order Fight for Children.

As soon as the will was made public, Samuel Untermyer, attorney for Mrs. Stokes and her two children, James, 11, and Muriel, 10, announced that he had been instructed by Judge Ben Lindsay of the Juvenile court of Denver to take such action as might be necessary to safeguard the children's interests in their father's property. Judge Lindsay has been general guardian of the children under a decree of his court.

A. H. Gleason, special attorney for Mr. Stokes, announced that the reason Mrs. Stokes and her children were not mentioned in the will was because the trust fund of about $1,000,000 established several years ago in settling the litigation over Mrs. Stokes' dower rights is left to Mrs. Stokes for life and upon her death goes to the children.

dren. Gleason, with W. E. D. Stokes Jr., is named as executor of the will. Throws Down Gage of Battle. Somewhat with the gesture of throwing down the gage of battle, Mr. Gleason said that "citations will now be issued and sent to Mrs. Stokes and her two children, thereby notifying them that the filing of the will so far as they may contest the will if they choose to do so."

It was said in behalf of Mrs. Stokes that in accepting the trust fund of $8,000,000 to settle her dower suit she received no more than was due her and "it was presumed that he would provide by will for the children."

ELECT ELICOTT TO HEAD SCHOOL BOARD 2D TIME

Choice Unanimous; Pick Smietanka Vice Pres.

Edward B. Ellicott was unanimously elected president of the school board of education yesterday. Julius F. Smietanka was again named vice president.

As had been expected, there was no change in the field for the school board post. Although President Ellicott had expressed a wish several times during the last few months that he might be relieved of the duty, Mayor Dever and members of the school board insisted that he again accept the position.

Former City Official. Col. Ellicott, former commissioner of gas, water, electric lights and street and mechanical engineer, was appointed a trustee of the school board for three years last May. He was elected to the presidency at the same time.

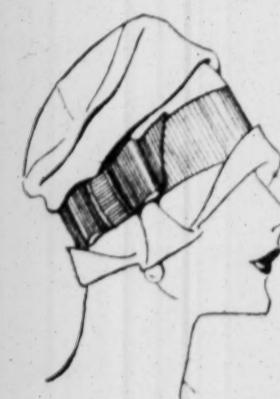

Since assuming the school post Col. Ellicott has brought about complete harmony between the trustees and the educational department. He has also, according to Mayor Dever, developed a building program that has never been equaled in school history.

Praise for Newspapers. In accepting the school post for another year, President Ellicott declared that the press had been a great factor in bringing about and maintaining harmony in the conducting of school business.

"The newspapers have refrained from comment until all facts have been presented to them and then given a fair analysis," Col. Ellicott said. "No public body can ask more. We shall continue to give all available information to representatives of the press who will understand that the interest of every subject will be to the interest of the school system."

Damage estimated at $1,000 was done before members of engine company No. 69 put out the flames.

PLASTERERS VOTE DOWN PLAN FOR STRIKE PARLEY

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—(AP)—Despite the expressed wish of the mother, Mrs. Nicholas Medich, that her twin daughters, linked together at their birth last Saturday, might pass away, Dr. Thomas A. Swartz, attending physician, said today he expected to administer to them to the best of his ability.

The babies are here; a doctor's duty is to do what he can for them," Dr. Swartz said.

The babies are so linked that they will never be able to move or walk in a normal way. An operation to separate them would be hopeless.

Similar twins have been known to survive for several years, Dr. Swartz said.

The arbitration plan was suggested by the strikers, the disputed points were to be submitted in the regular manner to the union's arbitration board, which in turn was to submit them to an arbitration board of the employing plasterers.

WHAT WE GET FROM SMALL.

The rural voters of Illinois were so grateful to Mr. Small for the roads built in his term as governor that they were willing to ignore every other fact of his public career. Any one who realizes what a good road means in a farmer's life will understand why. We thought, and think now even more emphatically, that the farmer was using very poor judgment, since good roads were a certainty and Small was not a necessary price to pay for them. But we aren't going to re-open that argument now. What we are moved to remark is that about all this part of the state has to thank the present governor for a pardon mill which turns criminals loose on us for a price which goes into the pockets of some of Small's henchmen and the persistent blocking of important public improvements by another.

The pardon mill doesn't need much discussion. It tells its own story of a cynical greed and corruption which flourishes in the atmosphere of our state politics during the present regime. If the people of Illinois are not suffering from moral qualms over these disclosures they are not what we believe them to be.

But the case of the state superintendent of waterways is something new to the public attention. The Small régime of government comes high, and Mr. Mulvihill seems to be an important item in the account. The metropolitan district is growing very fast to the rich advantage of the state of Illinois. The blocking of greatly needed public improvements like the Calumet harbor and the straightening of the south branch means the loss of millions to the city and to the state. The interference with the sanitary district land sale and the placing of the Boley street bridge are merely details of an official policy which is either suspicious or openly and unjustifiably hostile to the city's development.

Mr. Small and his political allies draw a good many votes from this city and the metropolitan district. We think the four million people or so whose economic welfare, safety, and convenience are involved directly in the expansion and improvement of our roads, waterways, and harbors would like to know if Mr. Mulvihill is expressing Mr. Small's feeling toward us or is merely enjoying in his own way the freedom which Mr. Small would have us understand Mr. Colvin and Mr. Jenkins made such good use of.

SPEED TRAPS.

Every Sunday a hundred motorists are arrested for speeding by motorcycle policemen in suburban villages. The policeman lie in wait on side roads, in clumps of bushes, and dart out from time to time to make arrests. Once he has made an arrest, the policeman returns to his hiding place to wait for another opportunity.

As big game hunting these tactics rate high. As a means of preventing speeding, they are not so good. Motorists will not speed when a police man is in sight. One motorcycle policeman in plain view is worth a dozen in hiding. If the safety of the roads, rather than the collection of fines, is the end in view,

COURTROOM PICTURES.

A Baltimore judge has promised to impose jail sentences on three editors and two photographers of two Baltimore papers. Their punishment is for contempt of court for taking and publishing pictures of the Whittemore trial in defiance of the judge's orders.

Without first hand knowledge of the merits of this particular case, we hesitate to say whether the Baltimore judge is right or not. Technically, he probably is. What goes farthest to establish the guilt of the newspaper men in our mind is the fact that it was a flashlight, not a mere time exposure, that was taken and later published.

As newspaper men, as well as average law abiding citizens, our sympathies are divided. As newspaper men, we know that it is the story or the picture—in the paper and first on the street—that counts. As law abiding citizens, we know that reporters and photographers and editors must obey the ruling of a court, just as any other citizen must obey, or expect to get into trouble.

Seeking a via media between the two extremes, we suggest that the line might be drawn between natural light exposures and flashlight pictures, the first permitted, the latter ruled out.

Photographs have come to be an accepted part of a newspaper. Often they tell as much as, or even more than, the reporter's story. They are within the limits of reproduction—a record as accurate as a carefully worded account. If photographs can be taken as quietly and unobtrusively as a reporter is able to gather the facts for his story, we see no reason why photographers should be barred from a courtroom.

There is, on the other hand, valid reason for prohibiting flashlights. They are noisy and obtrusive. They certainly are not conducive to dignity in the courtroom. If a reporter made a disturbance of like proportion, he would be thrown out head over heels. If he created the disturbance after being warned against it, no one would wonder at his being held in contempt of court.

We contend that flashlights may be barred, but that it is reasonable to permit natural light photography anywhere that reporting of a story by a writing man is permitted.

SUPPORT THE CRIME COMMISSION.

The Chicago crime commission has issued an appeal for funds. All Chicagoans interested in the commission's work will contribute as generously as they can. The crime commission cannot be allowed to suffer for want of support.

It was created and has been supported as an agency furnishing the necessary means of checking up on and encouraging the enforcement of law and the prevention and punishment of crime in Chicago. It answers the need of a link between public and official in a city where the enforcement of the law must of necessity proceed on a scale so great that it is incomprehensible to the people at large.

Seldom in the history of Chicago has there been a greater need than now exists of such an organization as the Chicago crime commission. Day by day revelation follows revelation of the laxness with which the enforcement of the law and the suppression of crime have been conducted. The people, who are always at heart against lawlessness, never had better use than they now have for the crime commission, which will act as their representative in seeing that justice is done.

In a formal resolution the Chicago Association of Commerce has "heartily and unreservedly endorsed" the work of the crime commission. The commission appeals for the support of the public it serves. When it asks for funds, the response should be immediate and generous.

PEORIA AS A BARGE TERMINAL.

The barge lines on the Mississippi now operate to Minneapolis. The northward extension was justified by the results on the lower reaches of the river, where the government is operating its lines at a profit. The Mississippi service was started as a war measure, to relieve the pressure on the railroads. Every one familiar with government operation was convinced the barges would be run at a loss. The pessimism was not justified. The economies of river transportation were so great that even with government operation the lines were made to pay.

If the lines can be extended to Minneapolis, they can be extended as well to Peoria. Central Illinois is rich, with a commerce which of itself might be sufficient to justify the extension. The terminal in Peoria would, in addition, become the point of transfer for rail and river traffic between Chicago and the gulf. It pays now to ship some classes of goods to Cairo for transfer to barges. It would certainly pay shippers to route their goods by Peoria, which is nearer Chicago by several hundred miles.

The probability is that the Peoria service would pay. It could certainly be operated with no such loss as is now met in the operation of the Warrior river service in Alabama, where three-fourths of the traffic is in one direction, bound for the coast from the steel mills in the Birmingham district.

The society then suggests that the tamtrums may be because your child indulges in irregular hours, overeating, or lack of play. The next suggestion is that the mother may be the cause of the child having tamtrums. The author notes these questions and answers: "Do you lose your temper when your child misbehaves? Perhaps just a temper is a sign of you. When you are angry do you shout? Come here. Get down on your knees. If you have bad habits correct them. Eat more easily and more slowly. Your diet should be rather low in protein, but you should not abstain meat and eggs. Eat soft milk preparations, fruits, vegetables, bread and cereals in moderation. Avoid water and emotional outbursts."

TANTRUMS.

WHAT should a mother do when her child has tamtrums? On the one hand she can ignore them, cross her arms, and sit down. If she is a reader she can read about thymic children. Her reading has told her that there is a certain type of child that is prone to do suddenly and without adequate cause—the child that just slips off the mortal coil and leads us into the great unknown. She may have read that the thymic child is being born again, and some disturbance of the parathyroid gland and for these reasons apt to throw a fit on slight provocation. So much for that side of the question.

On the other hand, she may have read a very valuable pamphlet from the committee for mental hygiene entitled, "Does Your Child Have Temper Tantrums?" This pamphlet says: "Does he get something by having them? Is he able to get his own way?" If he kicks and screams and holds his breath you get scared and give him his way. That teaches him how to get his way. He practices what he has learned.

Or maybe he discovers that he can become the center of attraction that way. Or maybe he learns that you are willing to bribe him to sleep. That is an easy way to get ice cream or some candy. You can't stand him, can you? How about tobacco, coffee, tea, and liqueur?

Eating tamtrums are bad, too. Eat more easily and more slowly. Your diet should be rather low in protein, but you should not abstain meat and eggs. Eat soft milk preparations, fruits, vegetables, bread and cereals in moderation. Avoid water and emotional outbursts."

BLOOD PRESSURE IS HIGH.

He writes: "My blood pressure is 150. It is that serious." What should blood pressure be? Should I do hard work like sweeping and general housework? What about my diet? My age is 55 and normal for this high blood pressure. I am normal."

KRIPLEY.

Your pressure should be around 125. If you are normal as to your kidneys and your heart, you should be around 130. If you have bad habits correct them. Eat more easily and get away from tobacco, coffee, tea, and liqueur."

HOT DRINKS AND COLD ONES.

Pinkie writes: "I should one drink tea or coffee that to keep in good health."

1. Should one drink tea or coffee that to keep in good health?

2. Are hot drinks more beneficial than cold?

3. Can any harm come from always drinking cold drinks?"

YOU CAN DROP AROUND NOW, OPHELIA, ANY OLD TIME.

R. H. L.: Tracy contributions give me a pain in the neck. When I told him this fact to a friend of mine (and friend he was named Heron), he said: "Why, I think they're clever." She writes:

WELL, here's some more philosophy for you built along the same lines. I have never stood in a Paris theater, but I did stand in line to see "The Sheik." I have also stood on elevateds and an indescribable rapture pervades me, even being when as the train slues around a corner some 200 pound male sways as gently as an element in a cyclone and during the ride of the "Sheik" I am quite unable to restrain myself from laughing uncontrollably. I am a laughing stock, I am a laughing stock frame. I am telling you, there's nothing else so conducive to ecstasy. Speaking about working for a living and the joy of doing as one's own well pleases. Once upon a time I was minus a job. It was somewhat strange and make me appear to be either sub or abnormal, but I did not feel the occasion so carefree and delighted that I care to repeat the experience. Lastly, I have never made the Line 14, and when I do, I shall not ask for opera subscriptions or angel food cakes. What I mean is, I have developed sufficient stamina to stand the shock of learning that some things (including the contributors) are not what they seem.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE GRAND ARMY.

We are the rearguard; we are those who wait While comrades file on file go marching on Beyond the sunset hills that hide the Dawn. The drum-beats die, the camps grow desolate; Behind the deepening dusk we pause, and prate Idly, to keep awake, of battles won. Of battles lost, of heroes who are gone— Of Fortune's pranks and vagaries of Fate.

And, as the campfires' embers slowly fade, We of the rearguard, weary, old and gray, Behold the chastened, enmity allayed. War's red and rocking specter driven away. And, thro' the night, regret that men shall see A conquest, mightier than victory.

EOLES.

WEAR the red poppy today. It's in memory of the lads who "went west" and to help those who are still paying the price.

WHO CARES? Would Be Pretty Snappy.

R. H. L.: As I came in from lunch yesterday afternoon I noticed a new elevator man, "Goin' up?" I asked. "I'm a new elevator man," he replied. "What to say? What to say?"

OPINION BOY.

Too Late! Too Late! It's Done Printed and a-Rarin' Ter Go.

R. H. L.: If Howard's picture is printed in the big showcard next Sunday, do not think it peculiar if he is no longer heard from after Aug. 16. I am planning my annual visit to Niles during that week, and should I change my mind, I will call him up. If he has not yet returned, I will call him up again.

ARGUE That Girl in Tub Was Irrelevant.

N.Y. Times. Well, that's as bad as not having her clothes on.

Modern society does not exist, is class consciousness, not public necessity. Automobiles speed from outlying districts to a privileged class in Chicago. The park along the lake from oak street to North avenue is filled with millionaires' homes, most of whom are available and best appreciated recreation grounds in the city, the classes of the community. This is now to be converted into a speedway for motorists. The apology offered to the public about the pretty strip that will be left does not merit serious notice.

The people now have three quarters of a mile of park when the new drive is completed, and will live alone. There is a vast difference between parks and parkways.

The alleged public necessity does not exist. What is involved is class consciousness, not public necessity. Automobiles speed from outlying districts to a privileged class in Chicago. The defeat of the Haugen bill was somewhat in error, probably due to a faulty source. For instance, the Indiana delegation of 12 voted solidly for it, whereas THE TRIBUNE'S record of the vote on the bill shows that the middle west was as much or more united for it than this section usually is for any bill.

Modern society has not learned how to cope with the menace of the automobile. Millions of people in cars can park in their collective capacity and can rob the people and get away with it. They exert the power which always resides in a compact minority. The boys and girls who roll on the grass in this beautiful stretch of lawn have no representatives in the ranks of political bodies. Automobiles have no leaders and apart from any formal organization, they speak a common dialect, they have power and influence and know how to make it felt. Park commissioners, property owners, and motorists, with a presumption perhaps the more offensive because partly unconscious, have assumed that this will do him any good. The four negative votes in Missouri came from Kansas City and St. Louis representatives, with the exception of a Mr. Bailey of Siloam, Mo., a rural section, and it will be interesting to observe the reaction of the farm constituent the next time election day rolls around.

In Illinois the delegation, including the congressmen, was solid for the Haugen bill with the exception of one representative from Chicago and its environs. In addition, Congressmen Sabath of the Fifth congressional district voted for it in an express desire to help the farmers and Illinois.

The only votes against the bill from Nebraska were also solid for it. Nebraska's delegation of 3 voted solidly for the Haugen bill with the exception of one representative from Omaha.

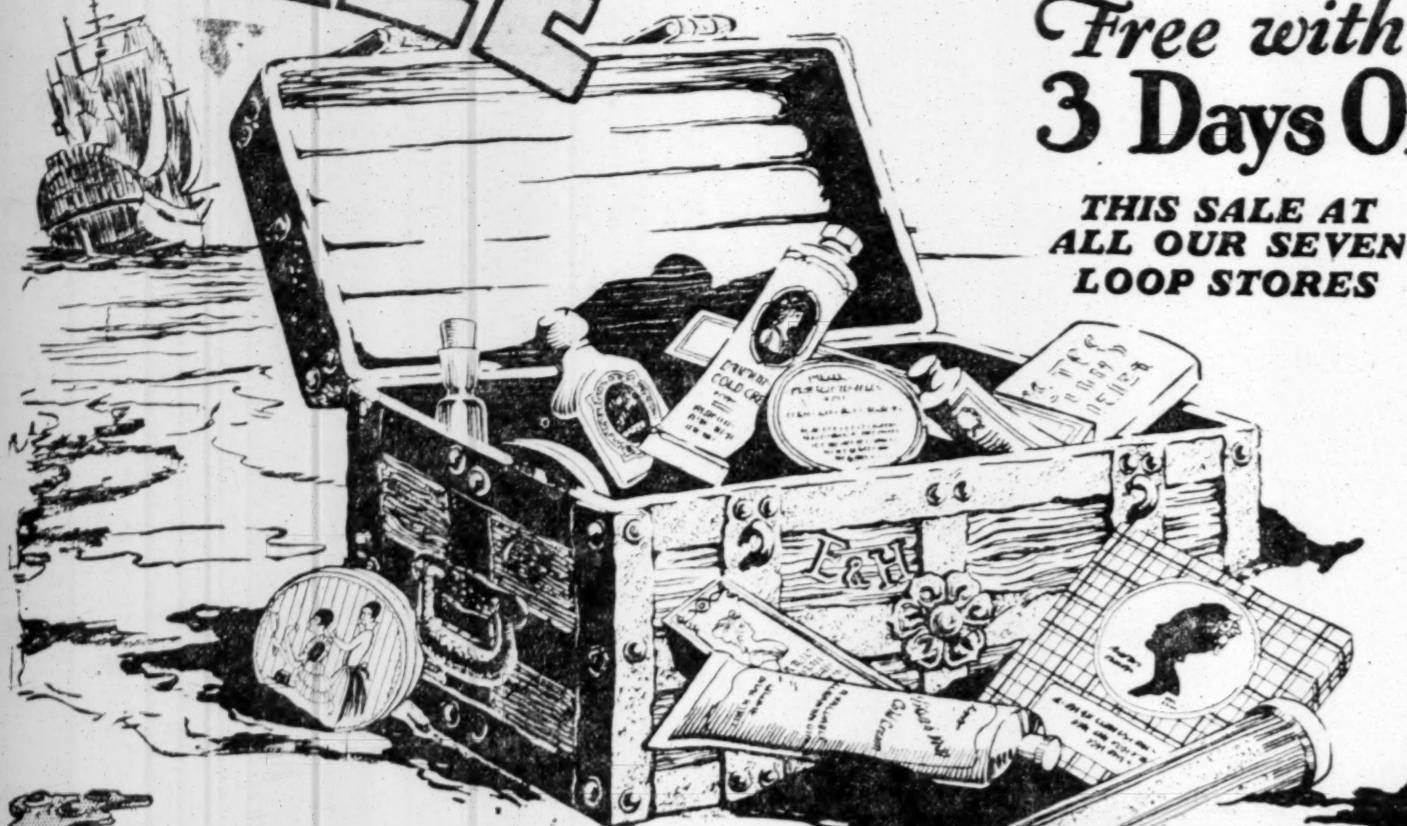

The only votes against the bill from Colorado were also solid for it. Colorado's delegation of 3 voted solidly for the Haugen bill with the exception of one representative from Denver.

The only votes against the bill from Wyoming were also solid for it. Wyoming's delegation of 1 voted solidly for the Haugen bill.

Cars For All Purposes

For Salesmen, Business and Professional Men—Pleasure Rides—Week-End Trips and Vacations—When Your Own Car Is Laid Up—For Showing Guests Chicago and Suburbs—Hunting and Fishing Trips—Picnics, Outings, Holidays, etc.

NATIONAL RENT A CAR COMPANY service makes automobiling less troublesome and cheaper than owning your own car. Figure the depreciation, interest on your money, repairs, insurance, club fees, gas, oil, garage, tires, batteries, delivery service, your time or chauffeur's in looking after car, washing, polishing, etc. Think of the satisfaction of having a car thoroughly clean and bright inside and out every time you drive. Not only all this, but you'd have to buy a new car every year to equal the service we give you. Our cars are all new, late models—and better serviced than any privately owned and operated cars in Chicago.

Rates As Low As 12c a Mile

Our service includes everything, and our rates are the lowest. The one rental charge includes gas, oil, spare tire, insurance. Every car is fully serviced—tires, motor, brakes, batteries, etc., thoroughly inspected before delivery—better and more expertly than you would do it on your own car. You start away knowing that everything is right for an enjoyable, trouble-free trip, whether for an hour, a day, a week or a month.

Cars Delivered and Called For By Uniformed Messenger

If your car is laid up and you must make a hurried trip—attend theater—make a call—don't worry. Ring Central 2300. We'll have a car at your door immediately—the very make you're used to driving. When you return home—no matter what time of day or night, just notify us by 'phone and we'll send for the car. You needn't be bothered with coming after or returning any car you rent from us.

We Recognize Identification Cards and Tags of All Reputable Auto- mobile Rental Companies

Check over the locations of our various stations. Note the one nearest to you. Go in and look over the cars. We invite your inspection of all the fine cars from which you can choose. You'll wonder how we can give such complete service on cars like these at such low rentals—and not a name or identification mark (ours or otherwise) on any of them to show that they are rental cars. They look in every detail just like any car you might purchase direct from dealer and own yourself.

Ride—See Things—Live!

Don't deny yourself, your family, children and friends the pleasure and health of automobiling, when you can have any car you like or are used to driving, at far less cost than actual ownership. Spend a week-end out in the country. Fill your lungs with fresh, pure air. Make up a party for a real picnic, a chicken dinner, or an outing at Fox Lake, Starved Rock, the Dunes, Cedar Lake, or any one of the dozens of beautiful spots within easy driving distance of Chicago—through pretty country and over the finest of concrete roads. Yes, we can tell you all about any trip you may want to take. Road information and best auto routes.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES BEGIN IN CITY TODAY

Memorial day services and programs to pay homage to those who have fallen in battle for their country will be held throughout the city by clubs, business organizations, and the schools, beginning today, although the official observance does not come until Monday. Today at noon 500 members of the Advertising council of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Advertising post of the American Legion will join in services in the Hotel La Salle. Former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis will be the principal speaker.

School Exercises on Tomorrow.

Probably the most comprehensive program will start tomorrow in the 200 public schools of the city. In every school Memorial Day exercises will be held. Many of the services will be under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic Memorial association. The association has arranged to send 118 speakers to the schools and students. The speakers will be told the story of the heroic frigate Constitution. The United States navy is seeking funds to restore Old Ironsides which now lies rotting in Boston navy yard.

The services of the Chicago Sunday Evening club this year will have a double significance. The club will pay tribute not only to the soldiers killed in the civil war but also to the G. A. R. rifle corps, which for sixteen years has participated in the Memorial day services.

Only 2 Survivors of Corps.

For the year the corps will be there. One by one its numbers have dwindled. Last year only three re-

ARMY EXPANSION TRAINING BRANCH OF AIR PROG

All Officers to Be Chance to Fly

Chicago Tribune Press Service Washington, D. C., May 26—As a direct result of the new air investigations conducted during the last year, the War Department last month issued orders that all corps, including the cavalry, artillery, cavalry, and engineers, be given special training schools, and in army branches.

ARMY EXPANDS TRAINING BRANCH OF AIR PROGRAM

PARIS TOASTS FIRST GERMAN PEACE PLANE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

All Officers to Be Given Chance to Fly.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 26.—(Special)—As a direct result of the numerous air investigations conducted in Washington during the last year, the war department today announced that orders had been issued expanding aviation training throughout the whole army.

Added training in practical aerial flying will be given at West Point, in which army officers will be given ten hours actual experience in the air, and training will be given in all corps areas at all general and special training schools, and in all the army branches.

Specific Courses Laid Out.

In a pamphlet outlining the general air policy for the army, specific courses are laid out for the military academy, all officers who have been sent to West Point less than fifteen years, all infantry, field artillery, coast artillery, cavalry, and engineering schools.

Due to the lack of funds and the absence of legislation providing extra James' compensation, a large part of the aerial program will be postponed until a later date. The air courses for special service schools, however, will begin at once and a certain amount of training will be given all arms.

Confined to Volunteers.

For the present the flying will be confined to volunteers, but it is expected all junior officers will take the course.

"There is an obvious need," Secretary of War Davis said, "for a greater knowledge on the part of all officers of the regular army of the capabilities and limitations of the air service."

Paris Greets German Plane.

In marked contrast to the last time German aviators flew to Paris in 1918, when batteries of anti-aircraft guns greeted them with a tremendous barrage, the aviation authorities at Bourget, the airdrome arranged an elaborate reception this afternoon.

The aviator and mechanician both veterans of air raids, officials of the German company, and passengers were escorted to the headquarters at Bourget, where a sumptuous luncheon of caviar, lobster, champagne, and liquors was laid out, and toasts were drunk with the leading French aviators lifting their glasses to drink the German aviators' health. Meanwhile Paris to Warsaw and Prague, two French planes had flown to Berlin as a big air port for Switzerland, Bavaria, Italy, and the Riviera.

The report of the smashing of Pelle-Douïe's machine at Warsaw when he tried to hop off for Moscow was received. "Pivo," who flew planes on route to Poland were forced from Paris to Poland yesterday, and to fly via Switzerland, Austria, and his mechanician, Carol, were not hurt. Czechoslovakia instead of direct, making the airplane was totally wrecked.

PROMISED LAND FOR 50,000 JEWS IN SOUTH RUSSIA

Copyright 1926, By the New York Times.
Moscow, May 26.—Most satisfactory progress is reported by James N. Rosenberg, vice chairman of the Jewish distribution committee of the United States, who has just returned to Moscow after a three weeks' tour of fifty Jewish colonies in South Russia and the Crimea.

Already 50,000 Jews have been settled upon the 500,000 acres allotted by the soviet government. Mr. Rosenberg said that although the financial help given by the American committee was little more than $2,000,000, thus far—in addition to grants of land, timber, and seed from the soviet government—a highly conservative estimate of the grain crop planted last winter was between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000. In addition, there are large areas of corn, hay, and vines—and some orchards and tobacco plantations. Besides the tractors, which have been used continually, trading from place to place, the work for Jewish peasants as well as the colonists, the latter have been supplied with horses and oxen and now own fully 30,000 head.

Used to Farming.

Mr. Rosenberg stressed the enthusiasm of the colonists and their eagerness to adopt the permanent life of the country. They are not, he said, as frequently supposed in America, poor Jews from the cities, but former inhabitants of small towns and villages who already were familiar with the care of animals and with truck farming.

Prior to the war and the revolution more than 1,000,000 people of total Jewish population of 8,000,000 gained living from petty trading. They are now gradually learning to grow to the loss of everything in the war, but further suffer from the restrictions imposed by soviet law upon persons classed as private traders. Although in dire need and forced to pay the highest rates for rent and taxes, they cannot get state medical treatment without charge. Their children are barred from the schools as "bourgeois elements." If they could trade, the situation might be bearable, but lack of capital, with the additional handicap of state cooperative competition, prevent this.

All Stages of Progress.

Mr. Rosenberg visited colonies in all stages of development, from prosperous villages surrounded by thousands of acres of grain fields and with their own water supply from artesian wells and with electric lights, bath houses, schools, synagogues, tool shops, and cooperative stores. Little by little, as part of the south side improvement, the present figure, which the board agreed upon, was fixed by a recent Chicago Real Estate board appraisal. Condemnation proceedings to obtain the site will be started immediately.

Commissioners Bernard E. Sunny and John Bain opposed the action and Commissioners Michael Igne and Louis Rehan voted for it. The deciding vote was cast by Edward J. Kelly, president of the board. Thirteen years ago the property was valued at $15,000.

SO. PARK TO BUY $2,030,000 STRIP ON MICHIGAN AV.

ALL RUMORS, SAYS TIM; MOTHER IS BEING SUPPORTED

Purchase of a small strip of land at Michigan avenue and Roosevelt road for $2,030,000 was authorized yesterday by the South Park board after a heated debate. The board has been negotiating for the purchase of the site for thirteen years.

The site, which fronts 200 feet on Michigan avenue, 185 feet on Roosevelt road, and 180 feet on Paulina street, has been selected by the commissioners as part of the south side improvement. The present figure, which the board agreed upon, was fixed by a recent Chicago Real Estate board appraisal.

"But she's getting old, and she's not well, and we boys don't want her to live alone. She wanted to clear out away from her two daughters and myself, and the boys and go alone. We didn't want her to go alone."

It was then the records showed that Mrs. Murphy registered a nonsupport complaint against Tim, John, James, and William.

Social service investigators later advised Mrs. Murphy to follow the suggestions of her sons.

- Does better work with less labor and material and wears longer.
- When tinted with Oil Colors, makes clearer and more permanent tints.
- Will not chip or crack and leaves a perfect surface for repainting.
- Slow to chalk—prolongs the life of the paint.
- Leaves a smoother coat with more adhesive qualities and is easier to apply.

One test will convince you. Purchase a can of Trip-Lex White for your next painting job—you will be agreeably surprised. Also put up in Liquid form for those who prefer an article that is ready for use.

Fight to Enter the Suffrage Alliance

PARIS, May 26.—The international commission of the International Women's Alliance has declined to take part in the fight of the National Party of America to become the alliance over the question of the admission of the National League of Women of the United States.

The controversy between American bodies has set many gatherings of the continent with excitement and what is considered a slight difference now has developed in favor of "internationalism."

The situation revives the "rovers" between the million anti-militarist suffragettes of the U.S. Women's Party and the 100,000 in favor of the abolition of all war. While the League of Women is inclined to favor laws for protection of women.

MILITANT YANK WOMEN STIR UP PARIS MEETING

Fight to Enter the World
Suffrage Alliance.

PARIS, May 26.—(UPI)—The admissions committee of the tenth congress of the International Women Suffrage Alliance has voted to take in the United States in the list of the National Women's Party of America to become members of the alliance over the objections of the officially accredited delegates of the National League of Women Voters of the United States.

The controversy between the two American bodies has set the preliminary gathering of the congress agog with excitement and what at first was considered a slight difference of opinion now has developed into a fight for international leadership.

The fight, which revive the old controversy between the militant and the assimilative suffragettes. The National Women's party is avowedly in favor of the abolition of all laws which are based on the sex of those affected, while the League of Women Voters is inclined to favor laws for the special protection of women.

It is this difference of opinion which

MAKE YOUR PARKED CAR IMMOVABLE TO PREVENT ITS THEFT

Make your car immovable when you park it, for summer is the busiest time of auto thieves; that's the gist of the message of chief Collins gave to the motorists of Chicago yesterday.

Warning also was given against the buying of second hand cars unless assurance is received that the dealer is reliable, or the purchase is checked through the police automobile detail.

The specific advice by the chief includes: "Always lock your car, whether on the street or in a private garage.

Lock the ignition, transmission, and wheel. On closed cars, lock the doors and windows. Make sure the doors and windows are closed. Reliable distributor carries always state and city police cards with them at all times.

Place your own distinguishing marks on engine and body of machine. Secure your spare tires with a strong lock. Don't leave coats or other valuables in your car."

has resulted in the fight for representation at the congress between the two groups of American women. The National Women's party has two official delegations sent to the congress, but the other delegation has appealed to the League of Women Voters.

REED HOLDS UP U. S. ROAD AID BY WAR ON SUBSIDIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—(Special)—The federal aid road authorization bill encountered opposition in the senate today. Its passage was blocked temporarily by Senator Reed [Rep.] of California, who charged that theance and constant extension of "patriotistic" policies by the federal government involves a peril which should be given consideration.

I am attempting to get reasonable consideration for a measure that con-passed by the house authorizes the expenditure of $75,000,000 annually during the fiscal years 1928 and 1929 under the federal aid road system.

That the bill would be passed overwhelmingly if it reached a vote was indicated by a roll call on a motion to take it up for consideration, which was adopted by a vote of 64 to 12.

I am attempting to get reasonable consideration for a measure that congress has been in the habit of railroading through," said Senator Reed. "I think the people of the United States should have their attention drawn to the peril in it."

MRS. LOTT-MEYER ASKS CITY AID FIREMEN IN BUYING SUITS

Courts Refuse to Enforce Contract.

The famous $1,000,000 alimony settlement received by Mrs. Cora Adele Lott-Meyer when she divorced Charles H. Lott, hotel owner, in June, 1925, was largely public fiction on the part of all those concerned in the case, it was revealed yesterday. Mrs. Meyer may get $100,000, but it was shown, but even then she may have to sue to get most of that amount.

Revelations in Court Fights.

Revelations concerning the complicated alimony arrangements made when Attorney George L. Schein faced Attorney Charles E. Bernstein, counsel for Lott, in two hot court fights. Attorney Schein won before Superior Judge William J. Lind, saying when he obtained an order allowing his client to have access to the Lott hotel books.

MAY HAVE TO SUE.

Lott must buy back stock given his wife at the rate of $1,000 a month for five years, the contract provided. Having paid $400,000, he would have to pay $100,000 more if it was agreed. At any time, if the value of the hotel stock went to a high figure, the wife could sell it on the market, it was stipulated.

BAPTISTS AND HARMONY OVER IMMEDIATELY

Radical Fundamentalists Plan Defeat

BY THE REV. W. B. CHICAGO TRIBUNE PRESS
Washington, D. C. May 27, 1926.—The big fight at the northern convention, whirled in the Park Avenue, New York City, Harry Emerson, pastor, and the Rockefellers, with the adoption of the money resolution and the radical fundamentalist proposed by Dr. W. B. Reynolds by a count vote of 1,084.

BAPTISTS ADOPT HARMONY PATH OVER IMMERSION

Radical Fundamentalist Plan Defeated.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON,
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.—[Special.]—The big fight at the Baptist northern convention, which has centered in the Park Avenue church, New York City, Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor, and the Rockefellers families and leading members, ended today with the adoption of the Chicago harmony resolution and the defeat of the radical fundamentalist amendment proposed by Dr. W. B. Riley of Minneapolis by a count vote of 2,020 to 1,084.

The Chicago harmony resolution was formulated by seventy representatives of the Baptist denomination of all shades of belief, called together by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles, Cal.

Some Fundamentalists Approve.

When Dr. Brougher presented the resolution to the convention several well known fundamentalists like Dr. J. C. Massie, pastor of Tremont temple, Boston; Dr. M. P. Boynton, pastor of Woodlawn church, Chicago, and Dr. H. W. Virgin, North Shore Baptist church, Chicago, championed it.

Associated with Dr. Riley were Dr. John Roach Stratton, Calvary church, New York, and Dr. Frank M. Goodchild, one of the editors of the Watchman-Examiner, a Baptist weekly.

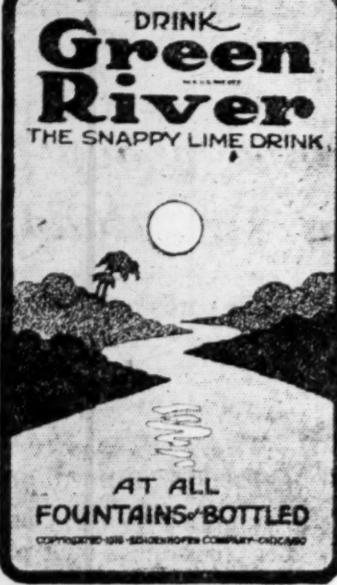

The winning resolution leaves the Park avenue church untouched, but was equally emphatic with the defeated amendment in emphasizing baptism by immersion as essential to the constitution of a Baptist church and to individuals as delegates to the Baptist northern convention, but the Riley amendment differed in that it asserted immersion must be regarded as a prerequisite to membership in all churches sending delegates to the Baptist northern convention.

Park Avenue Church.—
Park Avenue church, New York, it was said, expects to practice only immersion in administering baptism, but declared its intention of admitting members coming from other denominations who baptize by sprinkling and even in some cases those who are not baptized in any form.

There was agreement among all the speakers that the Baptist Northern convention did not have control over individual Baptist churches and the entire question turned on what churches are entitled to membership in the Northern convention. The Chicago和谐 resolution which recognizes churches which recognize and practice baptism as the only mode are entitled to send immersed members to the convention, while the Riley amendment declared only churches which make immersion a prerequisite to church membership are entitled to membership in the convention.

Dr. Stratton referred to the Baptist church as having too much oil in it

FLOOD WRECKS JAP TOWN; FEAR NEW ERUPTION

18 Dead Found After Dam
Breaks Above Village.

Akita, Japan, May 27.—(Thursday 1 a.m.)—A great inundation was made today that 111 houses were washed away yesterday when the town of Kitaura was swept by a flood released when an irrigation reservoir gave way. The bodies of five men and thirteen women have been discovered in the wreckage.

It is believed the loss of life will be comparatively small since the disaster took place in the day time, giving the people a chance to flee to higher ground.

Recover Many Injured

TOKIO, May 26.—(UPI)—The Mayama irrigation reservoir in the Akita prefecture of northern Japan has burst its banks and has swept away half of the town of Kitaura, according to reports received here. The town has a population of 7,000 and it is feared that the casualty list may be heavy. The reservoir that burst inundated a town and a theater have been carried away. Communication with the stricken area is cut off.

A large number of injured and dead have been taken from the ruins of eighty buildings, including the town hall, which were washed away when the dam broke.

Volcano Toll 130 Dead.

Courtesy of the New York Times I—TOKIO, May 26.—(UPI)—The Mount Tokachi on the island of Hokkaido, the same as preceded the eruption on Monday, today caused panic to survivors and seriously hindered the relief work. An official bulletin places the dead at 130, with 690 missing and 3,000 acres of cultivated area devastated. The volcano continues to sear for bodies as the waters and mud rapidly ebb. Thirty-nine bodies were uncovered at Biel where 72 houses were washed away. Sixty-five houses were demolished at Kamifurano, where several miles of railway were demolished. Asahigawa is thronged with refugees who have lost their homes and lost families and grieved spouses.

The mayor of Kamifurano saw his mother drown. He remained neck deep in water all night with his wife, who is dying of exposure. One survivor rescued a dog, thinking it was his child. Bodies are piled in the streets of Kamifurano awaiting recognition. The emperor has donated 2,000 yen to the refugee fund.

ECONOMIST WISCONSIN DRIVE OUTWE

Madison, Wis., May 26.—Claims made by Wisconsin taxpayers and others that the driving down of state taxes were supported today by John R. Commons, University economist, when before the special legislative tax committee in session.

Prof. Commons pointed of having wealth more in state when taxes are paid than those prevailing in and he also stated that Wisconsin has been the chief shifting of the tax burdens to suppress business situations.

The ability of capital must be considered in a tax, Commons declared.

"If you put on a tax big other states, there is a move out of the state," he said, "an ever present danger to lower tax areas."

Answering Some Questions about LATEX— The New Word in Tire Building

Question—What is Latex?

A—Latex is the milky-white watery liquid that flows from the bark of a rubber tree when it is tapped. It is the source of all rubber.

Q—Why then is "Latex" a new word in tire building?

A—Because it was only when the United States Rubber Company began producing Latex-treated Web Cord that Latex was used in tire building.

Q—How is Latex used in building United States tires?

A—Every cord in a tire must be impregnated with rubber before it is built into the structure. In United States Tires this is done by soaking the cords in Latex. By this method, the cords are impregnated with pure natural rubber, giving the cords exceptional flexibility and strength.

Q—If only United States Tires use Latex to impregnate the cords, how are other tires built?

A—The cords are "solutioned" in a bath of dissolved rubber; or they are "frictioned"—rubber squeezed into the cords by roller pressure.

Q—Where does the United States Rubber Company get its Latex?

A—A large part of it comes from the rubber trees on its own plantations in Sumatra and Malaya; and the balance from neighboring plantations where the United States Rubber Company Plantation Experts know the proper quality can be secured.

Q—Is there then a difference in Latex?

A—Yes. Just as there is a difference in maple sugar, apples, peaches or pears, or the product of any tree.

Q—Why don't other tire builders use Latex?

A—The processes for using Latex were discovered, patented and are owned by the United States Rubber Company.

ECONOMIST SAYS WISCONSIN TAXES DRIVE OUT WEALTH

Madison, Wis., May 26.—[Special] Claims made by Wisconsin manufacturers and others that capital is being driven out of the state by high taxes were supported today by Prof. John R. Commons, University of Wisconsin economist, when he appeared before the special legislative interim tax committee in session here.

Prof. Commons pointed to a danger of having wealth move out of the state when taxes are raised higher than those prevailing in other states and he also struck at fundamental Wisconsin policy by declaring that a shifting of the tax-burden had a tendency to suppress business.

Submits List of Names.

Prof. Commons' statements came after claims had been made before the committee by Senator Oscar Morris, Milwaukee; M. H. Clausen, president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association, and others, that many Wisconsin residents have been driven out of the state to dodge taxes, and Mr. Clausen had submitted a list of names of wealthy people whom he claimed had shifted their residences beyond the borders of Wisconsin because of the tax situation.

The ability of capital to migrate must be considered in a tax program, Prof. Commons declared.

"If you put on a tax higher than in other states, there is a pressure to move out of the state," he said. "There is an ever present danger of a migration to lower tax areas."

The names of fifty wealthy people who have left the state, presumably because of high taxes, which were submitted by Mr. Clausen, are: M. A. Pulp and Paper company, and Carl Stansbury, another officer of the same company; Kaukauna; L. M. Alexander, Nelson, E. C. Sawyer, paper company; Port Edwards; Nathan Allen; Z. G. Aurora, Ill., May 28.—[S] Clint Dewitt of New Orleans trained horses for the crown of Europe. He also has trained for millionaires in America. Seven years ago he campaigned his own which was admirable as anything in this country.

But Clint, veteran of many a struggle, got the biggest show career here this afternoon. He saddled Cartoon for the Joliet cap, then watched him race to victory in the mile and 70 yards trial. Cartoon featured the racing card here this afternoon.

In the synthetic mutuels he rewarded his few followers, a six-year-old Clint Dewitt was not among them, at the rate of nearly $100,000. He won like the best horse there, by five lengths, and was cantering under Jockey L. Guilding at the finish.

Clint Couldn't Imagine

Clint Dewitt is a shrewd bettor and usually knows when a horse is ready to win; but Cartoon crossed up today, and when unsaddled name and Clint took a squint at the betting odds he all but passed on Cartoon, an offcast from Payne Whitney's racing establishment and owned by the Dearborn of Chicago, beat George de Mar, of two handicaps here, and take horses that could be made broke next to the rail and off soon after the start. Then he is field for the first three-quarters heading into the stretch Cartoon's winged legs into action and last one horse after another conquering Crosbow a half-out and coming on to win. Jockey Pinchon placed. Cogwheel saved the place and Cogwheel in time to capture the show. George de Mar was fourth, favorite, Duckweed, fifth.

Max Brick Comes Through
Late tonight Clint Dewitt was talking to Cartoon. The big boy of Chicle whinnied to Clint that he would be in the Memorial Day Parade next Monday.

The Mercury Speed handicap companion feature on today which was decided under unfriendly conditions, rain for greater part of the afternoon the sun came out only spasmodically and a cold breeze rustled through the open stands and over the lawns.

successful one, the horse being Brick. He raced from far back in the last furlong, to half a length over MacLean from Maryland, while Jack Miller, heavily backed, was third. MacLean was the early leader and Max Brick got away in a break like he was out of the race. Jockey Mozer kept him close until and, finding an opening head of the stretch, came through rather handily despite a narrow margin of victory. Deep Thought, the favorite, had been beaten by

New York, May 26 (AP)—J. E. Widen's Haste, with Jockey Earl Sande in the saddle, today won the fifty-first running of the Withers stake at Belmont Park. Crusader finished second and Espino third.

The favorite for three years old drew a field of six other starters, including the season's highly touted Pompey. The latter was never in the running.

Haste stepped to the front soon after the field was sent away, and remained there throughout the mile test, crossing the line a length and a half ahead of Crusader. The winner's time was 1:37.5. The race was worth $22,800.

N. U. PINS BIG 10 TRACK HOPES ON CAPTAIN MARTIN

Pepper Adds Spice to Indiana's Chances.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Northwestern and Indians, schools which seldom have figured prominently in the point column, are expected to make stronger showings tomorrow. Northwestern is in the western conference track and field championship at Iowa City tomorrow and Saturday.

Each university will be represented by its best athletes, and some of them are certain to break into the scoring. As five places count
in each event, every member of the conference is expected to score in at least one of the sixteen contests.

Martin Purple Hope.

The Purple squad will leave for the games today. Northwestern pins its hopes on Capt. Alva Martin, its flying parson, to win either the 880 or mile run and to place in the other events. Purple leaders have been running well and are anxious to close his career with victory.

Greenberg is expected to score in the shot put and discus throw, while Neeser and Barge are other point possibilities in both events. Mathews, hammer thrower; Drogenmueller, pole vault; Cockrell, Furrey, Garber, and Kelly, middle distance runners, also have good chances. The Purple team is a cluster of promises, but hardly can be expected to run on even terms with such speedsters as Guthrie of Ohio State, Werner of Illinois, and Cline of Iowa.

Indiana Has Point Winners.

Indiana is enjoying the most successful track and field season in its history. Coach E. C. Hayes has developed athletes who should be first place contenders in some of the events.

Pepper is sure to place in the 100 yard dash and may score in the long. Other point possibilities are Caine, Little, Benzell, Fisher, and Prather.

The Indiana and Michigan rule slight fa-vories for team honors. Ohio State, Iowa, and Wisconsin also are given good chances to win. Records in at least half of the sixteen events are in danger of being smashed. Preliminaries in some events will be held tomorrow and all finals are listed for Saturday.

Muirfield Notes

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 26.—(AP)—Amateur champions of five nations remain in the tournament. In addition to Harry Edwards, American, and Robert Harris, British champion, the title holders of France, Australia, and Ireland. The champions of India and the Netherlands were beaten to day.

The weather today was the hottest ever seen in a Scottish championship tournament, and it failed to stop the heat wave, while the American and British correspondents perspired in their shirt sleeves. A rainstorm broke this evening with the threat of the customary fierce gales, whipping torrential downpours from the sullen Firth of Forth before the end of the week. If this comes, it lessens the Englishman's chances.

The defeat of Sir Ernest Holderness by the British boy champion, R. W. Peattie, gave another boost to American hopes of annexing the championship. Peattie is a 17 year old Scotchman who learned his game at Cupar, near St. Andrews. He won the boys' championship last year just before passing the age limit.

In his match with Aymer, Bobby Jones twisted a one yard putt around a half stymie for a par three at the short seventh after the Englishman had missed a hole-in-one putt.

Why Is It You Don't Pay a Tax on Tires?

Do you know why you no longer pay a tax on tires, parts, and accessories? You would still be paying this tax if organized motorists, aided by automobile manufac-

The tax on tires and parts has been repealed, the tax on trucks has been repealed, and the 5% tax on new cars has been reduced from 5% to 3%.

Public Utilities

Improvement in the steel industry was given tangible recognition yesterday. The United States Steel corporation advanced its price for steel bars $2 a ton, while the midweek reviews reported new orders running considerably above the April average and cancellation of recent price concessions.

The advance in steel bars centers attention on that section of the market following a brief interval in which sales were commonly made at 1¾¢. Fifteen per cent of 2½ which had ruled for about nine months, the April average. At the 1¾¢ price, enough long-term business has come in this month to make bars more active than other finished lines. The next fortnight is likely to show to what extent other makers of bars will follow the Steel corporation's action and how far the 1¾¢ price has brought new business to their books.

Booking Still Improve.

Improvement on the April rate of new bookings in finished steel products is evident, the corporation in the last week, beginning with a day ahead of the corresponding period last month. Mill operations in the Pittsburgh and Youngstown districts show further slight recession, with steel ingot percentage of 70 to 75. The Chicago district holds close to 30 per cent, as for April.

With the Steel corporation at 85 per cent of capacity this week, the entire industry is under 80 per cent. Automobile makers are showing interest in steel for delivery after July 1. Steel pipe holds its place as a leader in volume of new buying. With little activity, the pig iron market is yielding concessions being reflected. The finished steel composite price is 2½¢ a lb. for the second week while pig iron fell from 12½¢ to 12½¢ a ton.

Cheer in Auto Industry.

More optimistic reports also came from the automobile industry.

"My observations of current conditions show a healthy situation and I look for a continued normal development in the business," President John N. Willys of the Willys-Overland company, said.

"Notwithstanding all the pessimistic talk, I am still optimistic. The market this spring has been record breaking proportions. When the financial reports of the leading companies for the first six months are in, they probably will reveal the most prosperous period in the history of the industry. There is nothing to indicate a drastic falling off during the last half of the year, and I should not be surprised if we will end up with a record output with the first six months."

Studebaker Extra Dividend Likely.

Should business of the Studebaker corporation continue throughout the year as it is running at present, H. L. Lehman, a director, said yesterday that it is highly probable an extra dividend might be distributed.

Sales of cars, trucks and other automotive products continue to run with no indication so far of any considerable recession from the peak of spring activity. Automotive Industries says: "Production has been on a fairly conservative basis and as the result of reduction in accumulated stocks two or three of the large volume producers have been able to increase their production. Most output, however, is likely to be maintained at the April level as the result of quite general curtailment, but the drop will not be great and there already are signs that the downward trend has been checked. There are indications that next month's output will exceed the total of May business."

Steel Common Advances.

United States Steel common closed a point higher at 12½¢, after having touched 12½¢. Gulf States, Illinois Steel, and Republic each advanced a point or more.

Pan-American "B" was again the leader of the oil group, closing nearly two points higher at 7½¢. Net gains of a point or so also were recorded by Associated Oil, Barnsdall "A" and "B," California Petroleum, General Asphalt, Gulf Refining, Sun Oil, and Standard Oil of California, the last named also sought in the District of Columbia courts to enjoin the transaction, but their petition was thrown out.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

-the FINEST car
-in the $1,000 field
-see how MUCH more
it offers for the price

Here are just the plain facts about this Nash Light Six—note how conclusively they prove its decisive SUPERIORITY over any other car of similar price.

First—it's a NASH car. You KNOW that means GREATER Quality all the way thru.

And it's a real 4-DOOR Sedan—compact but extremely roomy—with wide doors.

Now observe its body design—wonderfully smart and graceful—the work of master craftsmen.

Bear in mind the price—$995 at the factory—as you inspect the car, and see all you get that hitherto has belonged only to costly cars.

There's the motor, for example—a six-cylinder motor with a 7-bearing crankshaft and 6-bearing camshaft.

That gives you performance you can be proud of—FLASHING pick-up; the SMOOTHEST kind of a power-pull; and rare QUIETNESS.

There's also FULL force-feed lubrication—to ALL main bearings, ALL connecting rod bearings, and ALL camshaft bearings.

You can turn loose this Nash Light Six at top speed for prolonged distances without straining the motor.

Next look at the brakes—the 4-wheel type of special Nash design. They're a marvel for simplicity and for INSTANT action—tremendously powerful but always smooth.

They're in the price—not extra—along with genuine full balloon tires and 5 disc wheels.

Look at the body finish—a lustrous deep Mallard Green that keeps its rich gloss and can't be hurt by wind and weather and flying bits of roadbed.

Run your hand over the upholstery—plump and restful—and the material is real velour. It wears as well as it looks.

Step right inside and see how luxuriously your body fits the seat—either at the wheel or in the rear compartment.

Now the appointments—all of CHOICE quality. There's an automatic windshield wiper, cowl ventilator, rear-vision mirror, curtains, transmission lock, cowl lights and dome light.

That's about everything but the performance—and here you'll get a REVELATION.

For after all, performance is really the great outstanding attraction of the Nash Light Six—and only a ride will tell you about that as it ought to be told.

So you drive it—any time, anywhere—and that'll end all argument as to which car is THE car of the $1,000 field. Come in TODAY!

The phenomenal success of the Ajax Six and the great size the business has attained in less than a year, with well over $27,000,000 worth of cars already shipped, has made advisable a closer consolidation of Nash and Ajax manufacturing operations.

With this in view the Ajax Motors Company, till now a subsidiary of The Nash Motors Company, has been entirely absorbed by the parent Company. And in accordance with this procedure

This announcement of the change in name from Ajax Six to Nash Light Six also marks the greatest five month period of business in Nash history.

The upward soaring demand during January, February, March, April and May drove total sales and production to a figure approximating 70% of the total sales for the whole of last year.

The Law of the Talon

By Louis Tracy.

SYNOPSIS

In Park Hudson Bay company's agent at Moose Lake, is greatly disturbed by a news in an English paper announcing the coming marriage of Alastair Spencer Panton to Eileen Grant and referring to the prospective bridegroom as the heir presumptive of Lord Grant. The young man who John Bradforth Panton had disappeared some years ago and his death is about to be presumed by law. Park Hudson decides to leave Moose Lake and go back to England.

Arrived at Edmonton he tells Mr. Leslie, the temporary head of the Hudson Bay company, that he is John Bradforth Panton. Leslie's daughter is a sympathetic listener and she encourages her father to help young Panton.

In the meantime Eileen Grant is married in London to Alastair Panton. Immediately after the ceremony she learns that John Panton is alive and is on his way to England to see an inheritance left him by his aunt, Lord Gran's John Panton's father, tells Eileen that he had been dismissed from the army for cowardice under fire and drunkenness so that he is unable to forgive him. Eileen goes off to Inverlochite with Alastair as planned, and she tells him that she will not live with him until the matter about John is settled by his wife.

John, accompanied by his dog Spot, arrives in England. He sends a letter of introduction to Mr. Leslie's brother, a lawyer living at Wimborne. The Leslies invite him to stay with them and accept their hospitality. While walking through the woods they meet an old army friend Sir Arthur Frensham, who tells him that he has evidence that Panton had been drugged by one of his men on the fatal day he refused to lead them out of the trenches.

After leaving Frensham, John meets Maple Leslie, who has just arrived from Canada.

INSTALMENT XVI.

A HOPEFUL SIGN.

John told Miss Leslie he was delighted to see her. "Some emotions are too deep for words you know," he said. "And you are looking charming. As for my loss of breath, it is not noticeable."

"Ah, you've come on a bit since you reached home. Everything is all the wireless said."

"Nearly everything, thanks to you and your father."

"My goodness! What did we do?"

"You were friendly when I was in real need of friends. I shall always remember your kindness, Miss Leslie."

"Oh, is that it? So I may not call you John?"

"Indeed you may, especially if it means that I have the privilege of addressing you as Maple."

"Nix on the Maple. It's all right as a name in musical comedy, but what's it to me?"

"All right, May. I can foresee wrinkled brows at Wimborne, but what's it to me?"

"Don't worry. I give aunty spasms twenty times a day, but I believe she likes it. She thinks I'm a scream. Of course, she doesn't put it that way when I do. My dear, you are so impulsive. The vicar is coming to tea today and I do hope you will not startle him." The joke is that the vicar eggs me on, he laughs at every word I utter."

"Evidently the church has broadened out a bit since the war."

"Now, what do you mean by that? John, you're never going to be cynical again, I hope."

"I? Why, I was only trying to approve of your view."

"Well, say so, and cut out that one act play line of talk. Of course, you've gotten over the shock of your cousin's marriage and are now going to settle down."

"Now, what do you mean by that? John, you're never going to be cynical again, I hope."

"I? Why, I was only trying to approve of your view."

"Well, say so, and cut out that one act play line of talk. Of course, you've gotten over the shock of your cousin's marriage and are now going to settle down."

"Not worry. I give aunty spasms twenty times a day, but I believe she likes it. She thinks I'm a scream. Of course, she doesn't put it that way when I do. My dear, you are so impulsive. The vicar is coming to tea today and I do hope you will not startle him." The joke is that the vicar eggs me on, he laughs at every word I utter."

Meldman is 25, engaged to a man of 25, whom she confesses she loves dearly. When she first met him he seemed well to do. He took her out to the best places in town, which she explains "should give me an idea that the man was not going to be the contrary, he was always willing to give her everything he wanted."

For the last four weeks he has been out of work. Meldman found out that the man had no bank account—not a cent saved. He had been living up to every dollar he earned. When he began looking for a position the girl lent him $25, which he has never been able to return. She has seen some. Her husband, without funds and out of work, and she let him have $25 more out of her salary. Two more weeks have passed and he has not been able to do anything. Each week she has borrowed from the girls' savings to help men who were willing to take her in. From woman and here is the man I love doing just what I don't forgive any man for doing."

He always tells Meldman he has something big in view and that on the day they are married she will not support a man after she is married. But he swears vehemently that on the day they are married she nearly like the strawberry pie, or those are the fruits used.

For experimental purposes we made a strawberry-rhubarb and a cherry-rhubarb as follows: first baking the shells for these pure fillings. Cut up rhubarb exceedingly fine and boil it to cook in the top of the double boiler with whatever other sweetening used. When cooked tender slice and sweeten to taste and thicken with cornstarch.

The proportions used in one were: One cup rhubarb, one cup strawberries, one cup sugar, two teaspoons of tapioca, and a third cup of water. This is an exceedingly scant amount of sugar and probably most people would like twice as much.

With one cup of the dark sweet rhubarb, two cups of rhubarb, and one half cup of sugar with the tapioca cooked in the puree to thicken, used.

In either case a merinque can be piped over and the cake put in the oven—a 325 oven for twenty minutes. Or serve the pie with a white cream for a topping.

By baking the shell the crisp contrasts agreeably with the crust and is more wholesome than a fruit crust, although crusts for fruit need not be obligatory eating.

Society to Welcome
Church Dignitaries
Eucharistic Congress
BY NANCY R.—

What a brilliant for the week end is preparing for the week end Sunday, June 20, when the great and long heralded Eucharistic Congress arrives here. The formal time of reception at Holy Name Cathedral, the papal legate Cardinal Mundelein, by Cardinal Mundelein, where there is no more able or distinguished churchman in the country. Our hospitable city expects to host to a million visitors brought by the congress—and a million more small houses will open to them and think it over seriously.

The General D. McLaughlin already moved out to their cabin in Lake Forest for the summer, their charming town home.

Ritchie place is to be the scene in a few weeks; that it may be its share of these many visitors the five days of the congress, the hospitable roof will probably shelter at least one cardinal and several bishops and bishops—a large gathering of dignitaries high up in the Chicago church.

Even as early in the season as the duds are, they are calling in members of Chicago's smart wing their way westward and preparations are being to get under way as soon as possible. In about three weeks the Paul and their son, Mr. and Mrs. James Hutchins, with their youngsters, are embarking for the Grand Canyon, out in Wyoming Brooks Lake, whether so many of our citizens will journey during the summer months.

Miss Marjorie Allen Becomes Mrs. Wilson in Notable Ceremony

Floral splendor and colorfulness made Marjorie Allen's wedding yesterday afternoon to Hugh R. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver T. Wilson of Lake Forest, one of the most interesting of the spring society weddings.

Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Allen. She wore white satin and net for her bridal array with a flowing veil of tulle attached to a net and pearl cap and tailing over a long train. Her mammouth bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids.

The church was beautiful in its decoration. The floor was covered with pink peonies, roses and various small white flowers, occurred at intervals on the steps of the chancel and large clusters of pink peonies and white flowers were tied to the tall fern twined candelabra which marked the bridal pathway.

The hospitable city expects to play host to a million visitors, brought here from all over the world. The congress—and the million visitors will be housed in small houses particularly in the top of the double decks, whatever other space is

Early Radio Hours Send Elmer Maying

Enraptured by Vision of City's Future.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There was music galore in the air last night, the 7 to 8 hour being particularly rich at all the higher wave length stations, but a special musical program was more rare.

But there was a lifesaver, as usual, last night's being a broadcast of the speeches and music at the banquet of the La Salle Club May party, Hotel La Salle, WMAQ, 8 to 10.

Tuning in this station a few minutes after 8, a speaker was heard tuning out long and continuously. In eulogy upon Chicago, Mayor Cudahy ended, faintly praising them to the skies. I don't know who the speaker was, but if the women who heard it don't demand larger sized hats from their husbands today they are deserving of the oratorical honors bestowed upon them.

The principal speaker was Judge John P. McCourt, subject, "The Chicago Spirit." A strong plea was made for law and justice to be freed from politics. The great value of our playgrounds and recreation centers was recognized. A plea was made for a complete separation of politics from everything to do with our government's enforcement of its laws.

Col. Frank O. Sebring, talking on "Chicago and Its Future," said the ancient cities of London, Paris, Rome, Pekin, were nothing in comparison with Chicago, considering Chicago's short life; that if Chicago continues to grow and progress as it has in the past these old world cities will be absolutely insignificant compared to the great cities of the future. He added Chicago is the garden spot of the world, the natural industrial center of the world, the intellectual and cultural center of the future world."

LEAGUE PARLEY ENDS; DISARMING STILL YEARS OFF

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

GENEVA, May 26.—The league of nations' preliminary disarmament conference, after concluding its first session in Geneva, adjourned yesterday afternoon to adjourn the report of the draft committee adjourned this afternoon. To the military, naval and economic expert committees now faces the task of working out plans for practical disarmament.

Lord Robert Cecil before returning to London tonight said that the League of Nations would early next year be called before the end of next year. Other delegates admitted it may be years before a program for world-wide disarmament can be carried out.

Hugh Gibson, the American delegate, throughout has been careful not to entangle the United States in the league at the second session. The United States does not object to provisions by which disarmament is contingent upon league guarantees. The United States so far has refused suggestions for further naval disarmament outside of the auspices of the proposed world disarmament conference, but it is reasonable possible that if Italy changes its attitude this phase of disarmament may be discussed as soon as the experts submit their report.

SCOTT DEFENSE ALIENISTS AGAIN EXAMINE SLAYER

Two alienists who testified at the insanity hearing which saved Russell Scott from the gallows went to the county jail yesterday and examined him at the request of Attorney William Scott Stewart, who will endeavor to continue his defense until Scott has received his sanity. Mrs. Harold S. Hubbard and Orlando Scott examined the slayer of Joseph Maure yesterday and Dr. James Whitney Hall is expected to examine him before next Tuesday, at which time his trial will start.

First Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman will not rely alone upon the three alienists who rank second in the field—Dr. Frank Schlesinger, Dr. Adler, and Dr. R. H. Hinman, who reported that Scott has recovered his sanity. He will have Drs. William O. Krohn and H. Douglas Singer examine the slayer and be prepared to testify for the prosecution.

Judge William V. Broders indicated that he intends to follow the precedent set by Judge Marcus Kavanagh in appointing an impartial committee of alienists.

Complexion Ills
Vary with Blondes,
Brunettes, or Reds

Fashion Goes In
for Gray Once More

Complexions are divided into three general types—the brunette, the blonde and the red. There are marked tendencies in each type to certain skin disorders.

The brunette for instance, has a skin which secretes more oil. The glandular system is more active than in the other types. Consequently she is more susceptible to greasy skin, and more often the victim of acne, than the other two types. And her scalp is less frequently troubled with oily dandruff and subsequent hair loss.

As skin and hair disturbances are affected by the general health, the brunette should give particular attention to gastrointestinal functions, the liver and the kidney, and to the regulation of secretions and excretions.

Blondes have a finer skin. It is drier and more susceptible to scaling. It is predisposed to wrinkles and wrinkles. The glandular system of the blonde is less active; her lymphatic and nervous system more irritable. The nervous system and circulation are the two things the blonde must regulate.

Reds have not such a vulnerable skin as blondes but resemble them in certain characteristics. They have, above all, a considerable disposition to blotches.

The chestnut haired according to the predominance of black or brown in their tissues, follow the predisposition of these two.

Granted perfect health organization in any of the above types, the possibility of acquiring any of the mentioned skin blemishes will, since a good complexion depends first and foremost on perfect bodily hygiene, stomach or digestion, are immediately eradicated in skin and hair.

It is well to know, however, what each type is predisposed to. In the brunette's case she should know, with a predisposition to an oily skin, her measure of prevention is to avoid the foodstuffs and the face creaming and oiling that would only further contribute to an oily skin and acne.

T. M. HAMMER TOE is GEN really caused by crowding the ball of the foot, as in wearing narrow shoes. The toe, usually the second one, is pushed upward and lies across the other toes. Wearing a pad of cotton or tape running over the hammer toe and under the next toe may help hold it down. It is necessary to wear broad-toed shoes.

IRENE F. THE EYEBROWS MAY be darkened just as the hair is darkened, the same dye being used. If this is what you wish, have it done by an expert operator, otherwise it will be easily detected. The use of an eye pencil is a simpler method, don't worry about it.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGEWAY

Lengthening the layers' day to increase egg production is now becoming possible on many farms of the middle West. This is a great boon among flock owners of both the city and country wherever electricity is available. Some recent work has been done by electrical engineers and poultrymen on the Pacific coast, who are trying to find the best methods of dimming lights so that hens can easily find the way to the roost after they have filled their crops.

HARRY L. GARNER, investigator for the Washington committee on the relation of electricity to agriculture, says that when artificial lighting is done in the evening, it is essential that at the close of the feeding period the light be dimmed to such extent that the hens find it difficult to pick up food and continue to light to enable them to get up on the nests.

There are several methods of dimming lights in a poultry house without the poultryman having to sit up to tell the birds good-night; an alarm clock does all that for him. Garner has told about the various lighting and dimming tricks and gives illustrations showing how to install the different systems in his bulletin number 134, "Methods of Dimming Lights of Poultry Houses," published and distributed by the State college of Washington, Pullman, Wash.

NEW YORK—(Special Correspondence)—Fashionably speaking, we are again becoming grayhounds. This color, long favored by the irre sistible tide of beauty, appears constantly in both coats and frocks. Also, quite a few of the new tweed suits sponsor these pretty tones.

Gray is always at its best with a touch of silver trimming, and the designer of the above model took this into account for the roll collar and wide lower sections of the sleeves of this gray kashmir coat are studded in silver. Similarly, a matching silk lining, tweed suit, with a belt with a row of tiny designs in silver. It is a really charming affair, and it may, of course, be interpreted equally well in a silk medium such as taffeta; more taffeta, more or faience.

One of the features of some of the newest coats is a dropped shoulder line which is the result of either a cut or a seam in the shoulder trimming. This detail, which is also conspicuous in some of the newest frocks, was exemplified in a navy blue twill model which I saw worn the other day on Park Avenue. This smart model relied entirely upon self-cordings for its trimming effects, and the way in which these cords were applied was eloquent of that ingenuity which distinguishes the modern designer. The cords defined two V's in the back, one to pick up the effect and the other touching the waistline, and they striped at wide in the waistline, the rather loose sleeves in such a way that the top cord defined the dropped shoulder line. Also the inverted plait at each side of the coat continued upward in lines of cording.

CENSORS VEIL
RUSSO-CHINESE
RAPE OF PEKIN

Seized Girls Carted to Army Camps.

Mr. Dailey, our staff correspondent in Peking, has sent by courier to Tribune the following account of recent capture of that capital by Kuomintang general, Chang Tso-lin. This is the first story of this crucial battle to reach the outer world. The rebels ruled in Peking during the days of the Kuomintang—those respects of the Kuomintang of Chang, our President Yuan. So assiduously do they protect their masters that through reports by the press correspondents only a thin stream of information came through no hint of horror within. The details of flight of terror to the Chinese agents here given do not leave much credit to the white race as represented by the Russians.

The Courier to The Tribune—
PEKING, May 2.—It was this Sunday afternoon, and the great west wind that leads from Chienmen Tungtingmen, the south gate of Peking, was so crowded with soldiers on foot that it was almost impossible for me to pass. Among the masses was one bearing John H. Cow, sovereign grand commander of southern jurisdiction, Scottish Rite Masons, of the United States, the most supreme council of the world, whose headquarters are in the House of Temple in Washington, a man to whom more than 600,000 Masons of the 33rd degree look for guidance. The car with him were A. M. C. Jr. of Denver, who is accompanying him on his tour of the world, while the far flung consistories of the British Rite Masons, and Nelson E. D. of Shanghai, deputy and legate China.

Going to Temple of Heaven.
In the twenty or more other cities were Scottish Rite Masons—American, British, and Chinese—on their way to the Temple of Heaven, where upon the historic altar erected by Ming emperor, Yung Lo, in 1420, was about to confer under the sign of Heaven the thirty-second degree upon a class of thirteen Masons which included Wang Chung-hu, C. H. Wang, a former premier of China, her permanent judge at international court of arbitration at The Hague, and chief delegate to judicial conference which seeks removal of extraterritoriality.

Heads of Looters.
As they crossed a bridge about a quarter of a mile from the entrance to the grounds of the Temple of Heaven, they noticed several persons who were placed warning signs in Chinese. Only the day before there was a freshly severed head of three of the poles—the symbol for lopping, enforced at last, for the day was over them in other heads, for they also passed this great street a detachment of soldiers, armed both with rifles and sabers, with one of them carrying a yellow palanquin on which were inscriptions conveying the information to all and any that this detachment was authorized to dispatch upon the any persons, whether soldier or civilian, who was detected in looting other crimes.

And a day or two earlier, on a summer palace, upon trees along the main highway, were half a dozen other heads.

Two Weeks of Terror.
Out of a reign of two weeks of terror of the most shocking nature had been committed by the ruthless, all unchecked by the strong generals and their Manchu and White Russian allies, until recently there came from Hankow a warning from a field marshal of whom the world already has heard. His troops, although massed in striking distance, had no part in the capture of Peking and sought the expulsion of the army of the Yuan Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang and his refugees in Soviet Russia, and the Chinese of Red influence. Heavy censorship at the telephone had been kept from the outside world news, but the telephones which censorship persisted in the Shantung general's way in Peking, and in general continued on page 8, column 2.
